The judgment is reversed conditionally and remanded to the trial court with directions to conduct an in camera hearing on defendant's Pitchess motion consistent with this opinion. If the hearing reveals no discoverable information in the officers' personnel files, the trial court is ordered to reinstate the original judgment, and the judgment is ordered affirmed. If there is discoverable material in any of those files, it should be turned over to defendant so that he may determine whether that material would have led to any relevant, admissible evidence that he could have presented at trial. If defendant is able to demonstrate that he was prejudiced by the earlier denial of discovery, the trial court should order a new trial. If defendant is unable to demonstrate prejudice, the trial court is ordered to reinstate the original judgment and sentence and the judgment is ordered affirmed.
